

HOUSE No. 948

By Mr. Cahoon of Harwich, petition of Oscar J. Cahoon for legislation to regulate further the hours of employment in seasonal restaurants. Labor and Industries.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fifty-Six.

AN ACT TO LIMIT HOURS OF EMPLOYMENT.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 Section 49 of chapter 149 of the General Laws is
2 hereby amended by adding the word: — restaurants —
3 after the word “hotels”, — and by striking out the words
4 “other than restaurants”, — so as to read as follows: —
5 The two preceding sections shall not apply to establish-
6 ments used for the manufacture or distribution of gas,
7 electricity, milk or water, hotels, restaurants, drug stores,
8 livery stables or garages, nor to the transportation of 9 food, nor to the sale or delivery of food by or in estab-
10 lishments.

The Constitutionality of Desegregation

in the Year One Treatment and Practice

The first section of the Constitution is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers. It is divided into three parts: the first part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers, the second part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers, and the third part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers.

The second section of the Constitution is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers. It is divided into three parts: the first part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers, the second part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers, and the third part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers.

The third section of the Constitution is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers. It is divided into three parts: the first part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers, the second part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers, and the third part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers.

The fourth section of the Constitution is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers. It is divided into three parts: the first part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers, the second part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers, and the third part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers.

The fifth section of the Constitution is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers. It is divided into three parts: the first part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers, the second part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers, and the third part is devoted to the subject of the separation of powers.