The Constitution of Massachusetts

in the Year 1780

The Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts was adopted by the people of the State in the year 1780, and has since that time remained in force, with some amendments, to the present day.

The Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is one of the most liberal and just constitutions in the world, and is the result of the wisdom and courage of the people of that State.

The Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is a model of a free government, and is the result of the wisdom and courage of the people of that State. It is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people, and is the best and most perfect government that has ever existed.
