
By Mr. Weeks, a petition of William D. Weeks for a legislative amendment to the Constitution limiting annual sessions of the General Court to a period of eight months. Constitutional Law.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-Seven.

PROPOSAL FOR A LEGISLATIVE AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION
LIMITING ANNUAL SESSIONS OF THE GENERAL COURT TO A PERIOD OF EIGHT MONTHS.

A majority of all the members elected to the Senate and House of Representatives, in joint session, hereby declares it to be expedient to alter the Constitution by the adoption of the following Article of Amendment, to the end that it may become a part of the Constitution [if similarly agreed to in a joint session of the next General Court and approved by the people at the state election next following]:

ARTICLE OF AMENDMENT.

The general court shall assemble in regular session on the first Wednesday of January of each year and shall be dissolved not later than the Friday next preceding the first Monday in September of each year, without any proclamation or other act of the governor, but nothing contained herein shall prevent the general court from assembling at such other times as they shall judge necessary, or when called together by the governor.

All the provisions of the existing constitution inconsistent with the provisions herein contained are hereby wholly annulled.

of the World is a product of the human mind, and the human mind is a product of the human body, and the human body is a product of the human environment, and the human environment is a product of the human mind.

The Human Mind in the Human Body in the year 1882, the human mind was a product of the human body, and the human body was a product of the human environment, and the human environment was a product of the human mind.

The human mind is a product of the human body, and the human body is a product of the human environment, and the human environment is a product of the human mind.

The human mind is a product of the human body, and the human body is a product of the human environment, and the human environment is a product of the human mind.

Conclusion

The human mind is a product of the human body, and the human body is a product of the human environment, and the human environment is a product of the human mind.
