The Commission on the Administration of the Government of the District of Columbia

In the Year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Ninety-Nine

AN ACT to provide for the establishment of a Commission on the Administration of the Government of the District of Columbia, and for other purposes.

SECTION 1. That there be established a Commission on the Administration of the Government of the District of Columbia, to be known as the Commission on the Administration of the Government of the District of Columbia, and to consist of the following members: the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chief Justice of the United States, the President of the Senate, the President of the District of Columbia, and such other members as may be appointed by the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chief Justice of the United States, and the President of the Senate, and to hold office until the expiration of the term of office of the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chief Justice of the United States, and the President of the Senate, and to report to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chief Justice of the United States, and the President of the Senate, and to such other persons as may be designated by the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chief Justice of the United States, and the President of the Senate.

SECTION 2. That the Commission on the Administration of the Government of the District of Columbia shall have the honor and privilege of access to all records, reports, and information in the possession, custody, or control of any Federal agency, and shall have the right to demand and receive the same, and to examine and use the same for the purposes of the Commission, and to disseminate the same to the public, and to publish the same, and to make such other and further provisions as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of this Act.

SECTION 3. That the Commission on the Administration of the Government of the District of Columbia shall have the honor and privilege of access to all records, reports, and information in the possession, custody, or control of any Federal agency, and shall have the right to demand and receive the same, and to examine and use the same for the purposes of the Commission, and to disseminate the same to the public, and to publish the same, and to make such other and further provisions as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of this Act.

SECTION 4. That the Commission on the Administration of the Government of the District of Columbia shall have the honor and privilege of access to all records, reports, and information in the possession, custody, or control of any Federal agency, and shall have the right to demand and receive the same, and to examine and use the same for the purposes of the Commission, and to disseminate the same to the public, and to publish the same, and to make such other and further provisions as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of this Act.

SECTION 5. That the Commission on the Administration of the Government of the District of Columbia shall have the honor and privilege of access to all records, reports, and information in the possession, custody, or control of any Federal agency, and shall have the right to demand and receive the same, and to examine and use the same for the purposes of the Commission, and to disseminate the same to the public, and to publish the same, and to make such other and further provisions as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of this Act.
