

HOUSE . . . . . No. 1259

By Mr. McGlennon of Concord, petition of John A. S. McGlennon, Martin A. Linsky and John F. St. Cyr for a legislative amendment to the Constitution relative to county government. The Judiciary.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-Eight.

PROPOSAL FOR A LEGISLATIVE AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION RELATIVE TO COUNTY GOVERNMENT.

1 A majority of all the members elected to the Senate and 2 House of Representatives, in joint session, hereby declares it
3 to be expedient to alter the Constitution by the adoption of 4 the following Article of Amendment, to the end that it may 5 become a part of the Constitution [if similarly agreed to in a 6 joint session of the next General Court and approved by the 7 people at the state election next following]:

8 ARTICLE OF AMENDMENT.

9 Article II of the Articles of Amendment to the Constitu-
10 tion of the Commonwealth, as most recently amended by 11 Article LXXXIX of said Articles of Amendment, is hereby 12 further amended by adding at the end thereof the following
13 section:—

14 Section 10. County Government.—(a) The general court
15 may, by law, organize the commonwealth in not less than five 16 nor more than ten counties for the administration of regional 17 governmental services not performed by other governmental 18 entities; and it may, in like manner, abolish, merge or 19 consolidate such counties, and alter the boundaries thereof as 20 it deems desirable. Each such county shall embrace con-
21 tiguous cities and towns, and compact areas having a 22 community of interest in historical, economic, regional,

23 metropolitan, or topographical terms, consistent with a
24 rational plan of regional local government. The general court
25 may, by law, grant to such counties such powers, privileges
26 and immunities, and vest in them such functions and respon-
27 sibilities, as it deems necessary or expedient for the regulation 28 and government thereof; and, in like manner, it may transfer 29 and of said powers, privileges, communities, functions or 30 responsibilities from county governments to cities and towns,
31 to other regional government entities or to the common-
32 wealth.

33 (b) The general court may, by law, abolish any county
34 office whether created by the constitution or by statute, 35 provide for the filling of said office by appointment rather 36 than by election, or transfer said office and its powers and 37 duties to the government of the commonwealth, except (1)
38 the office of county commissioner, and (2) the office of 39 member of the county council.

40 (c) The executive and administrative functions of county
41 government in each county shall be organized in an executive 42 branch under the supervision and control of a board of 43 county commissioners. Said board shall consist of not less 44 than three nor more than six commissioners elected by the 45 legal voters of said county for terms of not less than two nor 46 more than six years at the state biennial election as the 47 general court shall by law provide. The general court shall 48 have authority, by law, to authorize the legal voters of any 49 county to adopt a manager form of county executive adminis-
50 tration, said manager to be appointed and removed by the 51 board of county commissioners subject to such requirements
52 as the general court may specify.

53 (d) The legislative power of county government in each
54 county, including the powers of appropriating the funds
55 required by such government and authorizing county borrow-
56 ing, shall be vested in a county council consisting of not less 57 than twelve nor more than twenty-two members elected for 58 two-year terms by the legal voters at the state biennial 59 election, as the general court shall by law provide.

60 (e) The general court may, by law, provide procedures
61 whereby any county of the commonwealth may adopt or 62 amend a home rule charter, or adopt a standard optional

63 charter, the government of said county, subject to such 64 requirements as the general court deems necessary and 65 proper. Said law shall establish uniform procedures for the 66 submission of such charters, or amendments thereto, to the 67 legal voters of the county affected for their approval; and no
68 such charter or charter amendment shall take effect until 69 approved by the affirmative votes of a majority of said legal 70 voters at an election held for the purpose.

71 (f) The judicial system of the commonwealth, in all of its 72 aspects, shall henceforth be a function of the commonwealth,
73 and shall cease to be in any way a function of county
74 government. The expense of maintaining said system shall 75 not be assessed upon the several counties, cities or towns.
