

By Mr. Melia of Boston, petition of John F. Melia that the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority be directed to convey land in the Allston district of the city of Boston to the Boston housing authority. State Administration.

---

---

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Seventy-Two.

---

AN ACT DIRECTING THE MASSACHUSETTS TURNPIKE AUTHORITY TO CONVEY LAND TO THE BOSTON HOUSING AUTHORITY.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 The Massachusetts Turnpike Authority created by chapter
2 354 of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-two is hereby
3 directed to convey to the Boston Housing Authority created by 4 chapter 121 sections 26K and 2 AP of the General Laws
5 annotated a certain parcel of land situated in the Allston
6 district of the city of Boston, bounded by Western avenue,
7 Soldiers Field road and the Massachusetts Turnpike service
8 roads. The land shall be used as a senior citizens high rise
9 development in compliance with said chapter 121.

10 The Boston Housing Authority is authorized to issue bonds
11 pursuant to section 26HH of chapter 121 in the amount of ten
12 million dollars.

13 The consideration for said land shall not exceed the acquisi-
14 tion price originally paid by the Massachusetts Turnpike
15 Authority to its former owners.

16 The provisions of this act shall not be deemed inconsistent
17 with the provisions of chapter 121, sections 26J through sec-
18 tions 26CCC.

THE FUNDAMENTALS OF ECONOMICS

The study of economics is a study of human behavior as it relates to the allocation of scarce resources. It is a study of the choices that individuals and societies make in the face of scarcity. The fundamental concepts of economics are supply and demand, equilibrium, and the price mechanism. The price mechanism is the process by which the market determines the price of goods and services. The price mechanism is the most efficient way of allocating resources in a free market. The study of economics is a study of the choices that individuals and societies make in the face of scarcity. The fundamental concepts of economics are supply and demand, equilibrium, and the price mechanism. The price mechanism is the process by which the market determines the price of goods and services. The price mechanism is the most efficient way of allocating resources in a free market.