

By Mr. Howarth of Springfield, petition of Robert L. Howarth and another relative to certain provisions of the severability clause of the inland fisheries and game laws. Natural Resources and Agriculture.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Eighty-Five.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO CERTAIN PROVISION OF INLAND FISHERIES AND GAME.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

- 1 Section 92 of Chapter 131 of the General Laws, as added by
- 2 Section I of Chapter 802 of the Acts of 1967, is hereby amended by
- 3 striking said section and inserting in place thereof:
- 4 If any part, section or subdivision of this chapter, or the applica-
- 5 tion thereof, shall be held by any court having equity jurisdiction to
- 6 be invalid, unconstitutional or inoperative as to any particular
- 7 person, persons or conditions, the remainder hereof, or the applica-
- 8 tion of any such part, section or subdivision to other persons and
- 9 conditions, shall not be affected thereby.

It is hereby ordered that the following be printed and distributed to the members of the House of Representatives and the Senate and the public at large.

The Commission on the Status of Women

Report of the Commission on the Status of Women

For the purpose of the Commission on the Status of Women

The Commission on the Status of Women was organized on July 1, 1951, and has since that time been engaged in a study of the status of women in the United States.

The Commission has held numerous public hearings and has received many suggestions from women and men in all parts of the country. It has also conducted extensive research into the various problems which affect women.

The Commission believes that the time has come when the United States should take a more active role in the promotion of the status of women in all parts of the world. It is therefore recommending that the United States should take the following steps: