

late or prohibit the taking of seaworms within its limits, in the absence of any instruction by such city relative to the taking thereof, — so that the first paragraph will read as follows:— Except as provided in sections forty-two to forty-six, inclusive, and except in the case of shellfish on private grants licensed under section fifty-seven, or shellfish on areas closed for municipal cultivation under section fifty-five, and except that the private rights of any person shall not be impaired thereby, the aldermen or the selectmen, if so instructed by their respective cities or towns, in addition to any action authorized by section fifty-one, in their discretion may from time to time control, regulate or prohibit the taking of eels and any or all kinds of shellfish and seaworms within such cities and towns; provided, that, notwithstanding the foregoing provision, the aldermen of any city may so control, regulate or prohibit the taking of seaworms within its limits, in the absence of any instruction by such city relative to the taking thereof. For the purpose of such control, regulation or prohibition the aldermen or the selectmen may, from time to time, without other or special authority therefor, make any regulations not contrary to law in regard to said fisheries that they deem expedient, including the times, places, methods, purposes, uses, sizes, quantities or any other particulars of such taking, and may grant permits, subject to the exceptions hereinabove mentioned and subject also to any such regulations, then or thereafter in force, for the taking of eels and such shellfish and seaworms within such cities and towns. Any such instructions hereunder shall continue in force until subsequent action of such city or town shall alter, amend, rescind or repeal the same. Any regulations made under any such instruction shall continue in force, as far as such instruction shall continue to authorize the same, until the aldermen or selectmen of said city or town shall alter, amend, rescind or repeal the same.
