FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:
February 15, 2017

CONTACT
William Pitman
william.pitman@state.ma.us

MEDIA ADVISORY

Governor Charlie Baker’s Schedule for Thursday, February 16, 2017

BOSTON – Tomorrow, Governor Charlie Baker will address the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce where he will discuss the administration’s economic development priorities, and announcements about the longer-term governance and stability of the progress being made at the MBTA.

Later, he will join Gloucester Mayor Sefatia Romeo Theken, members of the Legislature and local education officials to announce capital grants from two MLSC programs: the Competitive Capital Program and the STEM Equipment and Supply program. These grants will support regional economic activity by spurring new research and development activity, and by preparing middle and high school students to enter STEM fields.

After that, the governor will visit Breaking Grounds Café, a café that offers paid employment training and education to people with disabilities. This year, the Baker-Polito administration has proposed a historic amount of funding for the Turning 22 program in the House 1 budget.

Thursday, February 16, 2017

Who: Governor Baker
What: Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce Breakfast
When: 8:00 AM
Where: InterContinental Hotel, Rose Kennedy Ballroom (3rd Floor), 510 Atlantic Ave, Boston, MA
Press: Open

Who: Governor Baker, Mayor Romeo Theken, members of the Legislature and local education officials
What: Massachusetts Life Sciences Center Capital Award Announcement
When: 2:00 PM
Where: Gloucester Marine Genomics Institute, 55 Blackburn Center, Gloucester, MA
Press: Open

Who: Governor Baker
What: Breaking Grounds Café visit
When: 4:45 PM
Where: 67 Main Street, Peabody, MA
Press: Open

###