

HOUSE No. 6841

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, November 23, 1983.

The committees on Rules of the two branches, acting concurrently, to whom was referred the Order (filed by Mr. Moore of Uxbridge) relative to reviving and continuing until the last Wednesday of December in the current year the time within which the joint special committee is authorized to file a report concerning tax implications of allowing deductions for charitable giving (House, No. 6841), reports that the same ought to be adopted.

For the committee,

JOHN E. MURPHY, JR.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Eighty-Three.

Ordered, That the joint special committee of the General Court authorized to make an investigation and study relative to the tax implications of allowing deductions for charitable giving (under the provisions of section 75 of chapter 329 of the acts of 1980) is hereby revived and continued until the last Wednesday of December in the current year.
