601 Definitions

The following terms used in Subchapter 6 shall have the meanings given below.

(A) Consultation — a type of service provided by a physician or an optometrist whose opinion or advice about the evaluation or management of a specific problem is requested by a physician, optometrist, or other appropriate source.

(1) A consultant may initiate diagnostic or therapeutic services, or both.

(2) The request for a consultation from the attending physician, optometrist, or other appropriate source and the need for consultation must be documented in the patient's medical record. The consultant's opinion and any services that were ordered or performed must also be documented in the patient's medical record and communicated to the requesting physician or other appropriate source.

(3) Any procedure identified with a specific CPT code and performed on or subsequent to the date of the initial consultation should be reported separately. If a consultant subsequently assumes responsibility for management of a portion or all of the patient's conditions, the consultation codes should not be used.

(B) Established Patient — a patient who has received professional services from the physician or optometrist within the past three years.

(C) New Patient — a patient who has not received any professional services from the physician or optometrist within the past three years.

(D) Ophthalmological Service Levels

(1) Intermediate Services — a level of service pertaining to the evaluation of a new or existing condition complicated with a new diagnostic or management problem not necessarily relating to the primary diagnosis, including history, general medical observation, external ocular and adnexal examination, and other diagnostic procedures as indicated; may include the use of mydriasis. Intermediate services do not usually include determination of the refractive state but may do so in an established patient who is under continuing active treatment. For example:

(a) review of history, external examination, ophthalmoscopy, biomicroscopy for an acute complicated condition (for example, iritis) not requiring comprehensive ophthalmological services; and

(b) review of interval history, external examination, ophthalmoscopy, biomicroscopy, and tonometry in an established patient with a known cataract not requiring comprehensive ophthalmological services.

(2) Extended Services — a level of service requiring an unusual amount of effort or judgment, including a detailed history, review of medical records, examination, and a formal conference with patient, family, or staff, or a comparable medical diagnostic and/or therapeutic service.

(3) Comprehensive Services — a level of service in which a general evaluation of the complete visual system is made. The comprehensive services constitute a single service entity but need not be performed at one session. The service includes history, general medical observation, external and ophthalmoscopic examination, gross visual fields, and basic sensorimotor examination. It often includes, as indicated: biomicroscopy, examination with cycloplegia or mydriasis, and tonometry. It always includes initiation of diagnostic and treatment programs as indicated. For example: the comprehensive services required for diagnosis and treatment of a patient with symptoms indicating possible disease of the visual system, such as glaucoma, cataract or retinal disease, or to rule out disease of the visual system, new or established patient.

602 Explanation of Abbreviations

The following abbreviations are used in Subchapter 6.

(A) “I.C.” indicates that the claim will receive individual consideration to determine payment. (See 130 CMR 402.407.)

(B) “P.A.” indicates that prior authorization is required. (See 130 CMR 402.408.)

(C) “S.P.” is an abbreviation for separate procedure, and indicates that the procedure is commonly performed as an integral part of a total service and, as such, does not usually warrant a separate fee. The procedure must be performed alone for a specific purpose to receive the separate fee. (See 130 CMR 402.409.)
