

agreements or documents at the trial of any other person charged with violating any provision of this act, on the ground that such testimony or evidence may tend to incriminate himself, but no person shall be prosecuted for any act, concerning which he shall be compelled so to testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, except for perjury committed in so testifying.

SECTION 3. Section three of said chapter five hundred and eleven, as amended by chapter one hundred and eighty-five of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and ten, is hereby further amended by striking out the said section and inserting in place thereof the following:— Section 3. The provisions of this act shall apply to all kinds of business specified in said section thirty-two, and in the transaction of business specified in the third clause of said section thirty-two acting or agreeing to act as guarantor or surety shall, for the purposes of this act, be deemed insurance, but it shall not apply to the kind of business specified in the second clause of said section thirty-two, either as to company, agent, broker or insured, except as to insurance against loss or damage to motor vehicles, their fittings and contents, as provided in said second clause. This act shall not be so construed as to prevent any insurance company from paying a commission to another insurance company, or to any person who is a duly authorized agent, sub-agent or broker, and who holds himself out and carries on business in good faith as such, or to prevent an insurance company from receiving a commission in respect to any policy under which it is itself insured, or to prevent such a person from receiving a commission in respect to any policy under which he himself is insured.
