On all questions and motions whatsoever, the speaker shall take the sense of the House by yeas and nays, provided one-fifth of the members present shall so require, and the call for yeas and nays shall be decided without debate. When the yeas and nays are taken, the roll of the House shall be called in alphabetical order, and no member shall be allowed to vote who was not upon the floor of the House when his name was called, or before the roll-call was finished.

After a motion is stated or read by the speaker, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the House, and shall be disposed of by vote of the House; but the mover may withdraw it at any time before a decision or amendment; except a motion to reconsider, which shall not be withdrawn after the time has elapsed within which it could be originally made.

He shall put the previous question in the following form: "Shall the main question be now put?"—and all debate upon the main question shall be suspended, until the previous question shall be decided.
